

VOLUNTEER OF THE YEAR

JENNIFER SCHMIDT-REMPEL

Jennifer Schmidt-Rempel's commitment to her community, the magazine industry and the development of magazine professionals is reflected in the myriad boards, committees and initiatives to which she is a contributing member.

As publisher and editor for Lethbridge Living magazine, Jenn not only leads a successful publication, but parlays her nearly two decades of magazine experience into effective and impactful volunteer efforts wherever she turns her attention.

w

She has served on the AMPA board from 2010 to 2014, including three years as President of the Association, and acted as an effective advocate with elected officials on issues critical to the industry as both an AMPA and Magazines Canada board member. She has helped to drive the industry agenda and to bring important concerns forward to key decision-makers.

Jenn's contributions extend from engaging with post-secondary students embarking on magazine careers to lending her time and talents to initiatives aimed at creating and building a stronger Lethbridge community, from arts and culture to business and industry.